Gathering the main Portuguese stakeholders in the aeronautics, space and defence sectors, the Portuguese Aeronautics, Space and Defence Cluster (AEDCP) is a one-stop-shop and entry point for national and international entities with market interest in these industries.

By taking part in international projects, disseminating information, managing contacts and organising events, the cluster aims to: increase the visibility of the Portuguese companies in these sectors; boost their competitiveness at the national and international levels; stimulate transfer of knowledge and technology between them and widen the scope of their business opportunities.

AEDCP has 60 members - including private companies, technological centres and public institutions - and is engaging with various international entities such as the European Commission, ASD, EACP, ESA, CleanSky, Enterprise Europe Network and NATO.
